Disease Antidotes.

The aroma of red cedar is fatal to house moths; the aroma of black walnut leaves is fatal to fleas. It is a matter of common observation that persons engaged in the business of making shingles from odoriferous cypress timber in malarial districts are rarely if ever affected by malarial diseases, and that persons engaged in distilling turpentine do not suffer either from malarial diseases or consumption. It is said that when cholera was epidemic in Memphis, Tenn., persons working in livery stables were exempt from it. It is affirmed that since the destruction of the clove trees on the Island of Terne, the colony has suffered from epidemics unknown before; and in times when cholera has prevailed in London and Paris, those employed in the perfume factories have escaped its ravages.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary medicines has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of house manufacturers. Especially is this the case with "Green's August Flower" and "Boechee's German Syrup." The reduction of 36 cents per dozen, has been added to the price of each bottle containing the remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The "August Flower" for dyspepsia and liver complaint, and the "German Syrup" for cough and lung troubles, have, perhaps, the largest sale of any medicine. The world would be greatly relieved of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.

Dragged to Death.

The Yreka Cal. Union says: A Portuguese working on Miller's ranch, at Willow creek, was thrown from a horse last Sunday and killed. He was riding along with the reins tied to his wrist and playing an harmonica, when the horse got frightened at the noise and commenced bucking, throwing him off, and as he was unable to unfasten the reins from his wrist he was dragged to death. He was a young man, and had only been in this country a short time.

Keno Prizes.

Fifty dollars; first five balls if makes a keno; or first keno $20 for five kenos in succession on one card; $20 for first four balls called if it makes a keno; $5 for three kenos in succession on one card. All prizes paid in cash. HOWARD & O'NEILL.

Trying to Re-establish Himself.

A London correspondent represents that Sir Charles Delke has begun a series of articles on European politics which are to appear in a leading English review, by means of which he hopes to regain the place in political circles which he lost through the trial of Crawford vs. Crawford. The first article of the series has received favorable notice from the London Times, and also from the paper which was practically instrumental in bringing Dilke into social and political disrepute.

Poor Descriptive Powers.

Of five different men who were asked by a Cincinnati detective to describe their wives, only two succeeded in giving a description by which their better halves could have been identified. If the detective had asked the five wives to describe their husbands, the portraits might not have been flattering, but we feel sure that not one of the guilty parties would escape.

Manifest Destiny.

In an interview last Sunday Senator Ingalls declared himself, with characteristic emphasis, in favor of the annexation of Canada, and not only Canada, but the Central American States. His dream, he said, was a Continental Republic; that is manifest destiny; that is the inevitable tendency of the political forces of the American people.

Would start him again.

It is told of editor Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, that he published a citizen's obituary on a false report of his death. The citizen called to protest that he was alive. "Can't correct it now," said Grady; "but I'll get you in among the births if you like."

Instructed to Acquit.

Esther, the 15-year-old wife of Jacob Van Woert, who killed her husband in self-defense near Stokdale, Penn. on Wednesday, was acquitted Saturday. The Judge directed the jury to acquit without leaving their seats. On leaving the court the young widow was cheered lustily by the people.

200 LOTS FOR SALE

The manager of the Lake estate, in order to enhance the value of the property of the estate, as well as assist in

Building Up the Town of Reno

Has determined to offer two hundred fine building lots for sale, some of which are situated in the central part of town, and are very desirable for business purposes. The proposed site for homes is immediately south of the Truckee river, and its elevation affords a magnificent view of the mountains in the distance, and the valley and town near at hand. A more perfect place for an elegant home could not be selected. The soil is good and an abundant supply of water will be sold with each lot. The health of the locality cannot be questioned, as its elevation assures a perfect system of sewerage. Gas mains will be laid through the streets free of cost, for the benefit of those desiring to use them. It is also intended by the owners to lay out a park on the south side of the Truckee river, covering 20 acres, in which the public may enjoy the pleasure of driving, fishing and boating.

The educational advantages of Reno are well known, and the business prospects of the town are assured beyond a doubt. Purchasers of these lots may feel confident that the best of terms will be offered, and they will be fairly dealt with. For further particulars, address

THE DENVER OF NEVADA.

Denver is the depot of supplies for Leadville, Silver City, the Gunnison, Boulder, Black Hawk, in fact for nearly all of the populous parts of Colorado. Denver is the center of railroads, of general business and good society. Ten years ago in comparison with its present dimensions and magnificence Denver was a country village. Reno is now to Nevada what Denver was then to Colorado. For being the coming metropolis of Colorado, Denver had no competitor; neither can Reno have any competitor for a similar honor in this State. Reno is located on the banks of the Truckee whose waters in volumes at every season of the year offer abundant water-power anywhere along its course from Lake Tahoe to Lake Pyramid; Denver is on the banks of Cherry Creek whose waters sink in the sand and disappear in summer. Reno has mountain views and climate excelled nowhere on the American continent; is in a richer mining and agricultural region than is Denver; has the same kind of reduction works that offered to miners the incentive to develop the regions of base ores of Colorado; has a people as intelligent and enterprising; has for the future city all of the essential requisites bequeathed by nature or provided by art. That Reno will be the Denver of Nevada is not the idle dream of the hair-brained; it is the mature conclusion of the successful speculator. D. A. Bender, Senators Charles Kaiser, M. D. Foley, T. B. Rickey and other prominent capitalists are quietly buying property here or are trying to do so. We have heard shrewd business men in Nye, Lander, Eureka, Humboldt, Storey and other counties talk of the possible speculations that might be made in the real estate of Reno. Reno-ward, the course of immigration will take its way. As sure as day follows night, so sure will Nevada's dark days be lighted up by brighter days. Nevada has a future as bright as the brightest of any of the Pacific Coast States, and in all her future prosperity "the River-town" must be to the battle-born State what the "Queen City of the Plains" is to the centennial State.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Inter-State commerce bill, if it become a law, will affect Nevada's interests more than two-eighths of any other one State. The President has signified his willingness to appoint a Representative from each of the five sections: New England, Middle States, Southern States, Western States and Pacific Coast States. California urges its claims to be represented by either John F. Swift, the last Republican nominee for Governor, J. T. McLean of Alameda, or W. W. Foote, ex-Railroad Commissioner of California. We have heard mentioned from Nevada the names of ex-Congressman Cassidy, Senator W. J. Westerfield, ex-Governor J. W. Adams and J. H. Kinkead. As two of the five Commissioners will be Republicans, we suggest the name of Governor Kinkead for this position. Governor Kinkead was for four years Nevada's Executive, was Governor of Alaska, knows the wants of the Pacific coast people as few men do, and would be of great service to this State on that Commission. The Legislature now in session should send memorial to the President asking that a Nevada man be appointed, and might name for the place our esteemed ex-Governor Kinkead.

The Senate Committee on Post-offices and Postroads has reported a bill for the establishment of a telegraphic service as a branch of the postoffice. Should this bill become a law the rate for 20 words from Reno to New York would be 50 cents, instead of $1 for ten words as now. The rate for a message of 20 words sent to any point on this Coast would be 20 cents. Such a law would make a reduction of at least 50 per cent. on all messages.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

Nearly Wrecked by Dynamite.

NEW YORK, January 31.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the steamer Guyandotte sailed from her pier in this city for Norfolk. When off Long Branch an explosion occurred in the after part of the saloon, by which Captain Kelly and James Justice were slightly injured. The explosion is believed to have been from dynamite packed in a satchel that had been left in the closet-room. The steamer at once put about and arrived at her dock at 10:30 to-night.

The Guyandotte left with a mixed cargo, though only partly loaded. She carried five saloon and 15 steerage passengers, with a crew of 42 persons. It was discovered that a hole about 15 feet square had been caused by the explosion through the main and hurricane deck, and much damage had been done in the saloon and to the outside joiner work on the main deck. The cabin was filled with splinters of timber. The vessel was comparatively uninjured, but the Captain deemed her in no condition to continue the voyage, and he put back.

A stranger was seen hurrying from the closet where the explosion occurred a few moments before she sailed. He was about 35 years old, five feet nine inches high, and carried a satchel when first seen, but had none when he left the ship. Kelly will see no one to-night. No person has been permitted on board, and the pier of the company is guarded by police.

More Warlike Talk.

WASHINGTON, January 31.

In the House to-day Lawler, of Illinois, offered the following preamble and resolution:

WHEREAS, the belligerent tone of the Canadian press and the announcement that Great Britain will shortly dispatch a fleet of war ships to cruise in the vicinity of our Northeastern coast line indicate hostility toward the United States growing out of our position on the fisheries question; and

WHEREAS, Admiral Porter has directed attention to the fact that twenty-seven of our Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific harbors are absolutely defenseless, eleven of them, to wit: New York, San Francisco, Boston, Liverpool, Hampton Roads, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Portland, Maine, and Rhode Island ports (Narragansett Bay) are in urgent need of immediate defense; and

WHEREAS, it is alleged that Canada and Great Britain are in possession of charts and exemplifications of all our coast defenses; therefore,

Resolved, That the President be and is hereby requested, as Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, to inform the House of Representatives at any early day what steps, if any, are necessary in his judgment to provide for this emergency.

The resolution was referred.

A Lucky Alderman.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 1.

Alderman G. S. Groffe of this city, received intelligence this afternoon that his family have just become heirs to an estate in Holland valued at $7,600,000. In 1877 the great-great-grandfather of the Alderman was exiled from Holland and his estate confiscated by the Government. He came to this country, and his descendants are now scattered over the Western States, except the few who are in New York. The Government has just passed a bill restoring the estate, with interest and improvements, to the family. The estate is said to be worth the above mentioned sum.

Telephone Rates.

DETROIT, February 1.

In Windsor, Detroit's Canadian suburb, more than half the telephone subscribers have notified the company that unless they can have Detroit connections without extra charge, the telephones must be removed. This is said to be but the start of a general movement throughout Canada, looking towards lowering the telephone rates.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, February 1.

SENATE.—Yesterday the House presented resolutions of the Massachusets Legislature, concerning the treatment of American fishing vessels in Canadian waters, declaring itself in favor of retaliation to the extent denying to Canadian vessels in American ports, the right to purchase supplies, and the eventual exclusion of all Canadian products by land or sea, until the offensive legislation and the action of the Canadian authorities are discontinued. Referred.

Serious Condition of S. S. Cox.

WASHINGTON, January 31.

Congressman Cox of New York has had another relapse. His condition last night was regarded as very serious. His recovery, though slow, seemed to be sure until two days ago. Since that time he has grown steadily weaker, and yesterday he was unable to sit up. Mrs. Cox makes no concealment of her anxiety as to the outcome, although the attending physician believes that Mr. Cox' illness has not yet assumed a critical turn.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, February 1.

The public debt statement to be issued to-day will show a decrease of about $9,000,000 in the debt since January 1st. Receipts during January were $28,700,000, being about $4,000,000 more than the receipts for the same month last year. Expenditures for January, 1887, were $20,000,000 being $3,000,000 less than the expenditures for January, 1886.

News has been received from Cotton settlement, this county, of the peculiar death of George Crittenden at his home. Crittenden cut his throat with a pocket-knife and died in a few minutes. The testimony taken before the Coroner's Jury shows that he was suffering with a swelling of the throat, and while struggling for breath cut his throat to get relief. He committed the act in the presence of his wife. The jury's verdict states that he died from the wounds inflicted by himself for relief from suffocation. He leaves a family of several children.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

An Electioneering Manifesto.

BERLIN, February 1.

A committee of the National Liberal party have issued a manifesto to electors. They say that never since the Franco-German war, has the danger of a great conflict been so near; no statesman can form any certain conclusion as to the future, even for a few weeks; the peace of Europe rests at this moment solely upon the strength of readiness for action, and the moral trustworthiness of the German army. The National Liberals are confident that the voice of universal suffrage will pronounce the right decision; the unpropitious issue of the election will bring down upon the country, war with all its terrors, and even its best results, heavy losses.

The Berlin Post, semi-official, in a leading article headed, "on the edge of the knife," says the position of General Boulanger is now not only strengthened, but is becoming unassailable.

Telegrapher's Paralysis.

Following is an interesting letter from one of the managers of the Western Union Telegraph Co.: Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 12, 1886.

I have been in the telegraph business for more than 20 years, and for the past five years have been troubled with what is called Writer's Cramp, or Telegrapher's Paralysis. At times my arm became so weak that I could not use it in sending dispatches, and had to use my left. Have spent many restless nights, the pain reaching from my hand up into my shoulder. Tried everything I could hear of, but with scarcely any relief. Having strained my left side a few weeks ago, I got one of Alcock's Plasters, as I usually do in such cases, and accidentally happened to see where some one had cured a weak wrist by using one of these Plasters. I got another once and cut it in two and put one-half around my wrist. In less than two days after the pain had entirely left my wrist and arm, and in two weeks I could send nearly as well as ever. I write this hoping it will reach the eyes of others who may be afflicted as I was, as I know there are scores of them.

Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicine prescribed. The Effect of Mental Exhaustion

Many diseases, especially those of the nervous system, are the products of daily renewed mental exhaustion. These avocations often involve an amount of mental wear and tear very prejudicial to physical health, and the professions, if ardently pursued, are no less destructive to brain and nerve tissue. It is one of the most important functions of Hostetter's Stimulus Bitters, that it compensates for this undue loss of tissue, and that it imparts new energy to the brain and nerves. The rapidity with which it renews weakened mental energy and physical vitality is remarkable, and shows that in disregarding Hostetter's Stimulus Bitters, there is compensation for mental exhaustion, this potential medicine cures and prevents fever and ague, rheumatism, chronic dyspepsia and constipation, kidney and uterine weakness and other complaints. Physicians also commend it as a medicated stimulant and remedy.

The Only Perfect Remedy

For habitual constipation, dyspepsia and kindred ills, is the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It strengthens as well as cleanses the system, it is easily taken and perfectly harmless. Large bottles for sale by Wm. Pininger, Reno, Nevada.

Railroad Rivalry.

THE BEST

Hair restorative in the world is HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. It cures all diseases of the scalp, and stimulates the hair glands to healthful action. It stops the falling of the hair; prevents its turning gray; cures baldness, and restores youthful color and freshness of appearance to heads already white with age. The following are a few illustrations of what is done by

HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian
HAIR RENEWER.

Mrs. HUNTER, 34 Franklin Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., after a severe attack of Erysipelas in the head, found her hair—already gray—falling off so rapidly that she soon became quite bald. One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER brought it back as soft, brown and thick as when she was a girl.

Mr. MURRAY, an old farmer, near Worcester, Ind., had scarcely any hair left, and what little there was of it had become nearly white. One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER stopped its falling out, and gave him a thick, luxuriant head of hair, as brown and fresh as he ever had.

Mrs. A. T. WALL, Greenfield, Cheshire, Eng., writes: "I have found the greatest benefit from the use of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER, it having restored my hair, which was rapidly falling off, to its original color."

Dr. E. S. STUPP, Detroit, Mich., certifies that "HALL'S HAIR RENEWER is excellent for hair growing, and gives back the natural color to faded and gray hair."

Mrs. S. E. ELLIOTT, Glenelle, W. Va., says: "One bottle of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER restored my hair to its natural, youthful color."

No injurious substances enter into the composition of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER, and it is not a dye. Its vegetable ingredients render it in the highest degree beneficial to the scalp as a preventive of disease. Its effects are natural and lasting, and it does not make the hair dry and brassy, like the so-called restoratives compounded with alcohol.

Buckingham's Dye

2d.—The color so produced is permanent cannot be washed off, and will not soil anything with which it comes in contact.

The Lily's Husband's Story.

The recent London lawsuits, which resulted in the declaration that Mrs. Langtry paid her husband a salary on condition that he does not molest her, have occasioned widespread comment of a character the reverse of complimentary to that unfortunate gentleman—the husband of a professional beauty. A gentleman well known in New York, and a member of several prominent clubs, authorizes the publication of these facts.

He says: "Some two or three years ago Mr. Langtry came to America and refused, as will be remembered, to make any statement to the press of the reasons for his visit. During his stay in America he was for the greater part of the time my guest at my place in the country, and since his return we have kept up a correspondence at intervals. He talked with me very freely, and I feel at liberty under the present circumstances to give publicity to the facts gathered from him. According to his story, the first discovery of Mrs. Langtry in the island of Jersey was made by the Duke of Bedford. He was very much struck by her beauty and paid her a great deal of attention. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Langtry were living in affluent circumstances the life of a country gentleman and his wife on the income of his property, which amounted, he claims, to £45,000, or nearly $250,000.

"On his return to London from his visit the Prince of Wales heard so much from the Duke of the extraordinary beauty of Mrs. Langtry that he actually accompanied his Grace of Bedford to Jersey for the purpose of meeting the beauty. The heir apparent was as much pleased with Mrs. Langtry as the Duke, and the way the Prince introduced her into English society is an old story. When the inevitable financial crash came—for it was impossible for the Langtrys to hold their own very long on the comparatively small income they possessed in the most expensive society in the world—Mr. Langtry, who had hitherto been a good tempered, unsuspecting spectator of his wife's triumphs, insisted that they must retire from the world and live on the income of a government appointment which he believed he could obtain. But to this the spoiled beauty would not listen for a moment, and then announced her intention of going on the stage.

"Mr. Langtry informed her that if he did so he would never live with her again under any circumstances. The rupture which then occurred was, in reality, final. She declared openly that the only man she ever cared for was Sir George Chetwynd; that she did not care a snap of her finger whether Langtry lived with her or not, and ended by running off to the Continent with Chetwynd, where they traveled under an assumed name.

"Now for a man and woman as well known as they were to attempt to conceal their identity was an absurdity; they were quickly recognized, and society in London knew of their escapade in less than a week. Naturally, when they returned to London the doors of society were closed, and for this reason and not because she went on the stage.

"It was Mrs. Paget, the daughter of Mrs. Parker Stevens, who, knowing these facts, saw to it that Mrs. Langtry's introductions were ignored and that she was not received in society in New York. At this time Mr. and Mrs. Langtry separated. His reason for not procuring a divorce at the time is said to be that he ever intended to live with her again, but that, under the laws of Jersey, which was under France to England on certain peculiar conditions, no such thing as a divorce is granted. At any rate, it was Mrs. Langtry who proposed to pay to Mr. Langtry a portion of her earnings on the stage, not as a salary 'not to molest her,' but for the purpose of paying back in part, at least, the fortune she had squandered. After consulting his friends, Langtry agreed to permit her to do this.

"The agreement, however, has never been carried out in the way it was intended to have been performed. Mrs. Langtry then went on the stage, and her career since then is well known, but these facts will cast a light on some subsequent occurrences, which at the time seemed mysterious."—[Philadelphia Press.]

Massachusetts' Mountaineers.

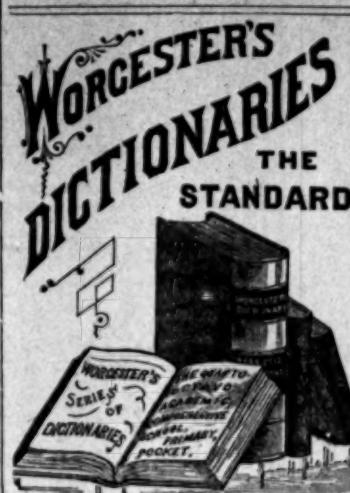

Six green Shelton people loaded themselves into a wagon recently and drove to New Haven to visit. The family visited, alarmed by the number, got rid of them at night by saying that a small-pox patient was in the house. They went to a hotel and all packed into a single room. The officiating old woman put her shoe over the gas jet to put it out, and turned the water faucet, having heard somewhere that to put out gas something had to be turned. In the night the porter was alarmed by smelling gas. He found the country folk all unconscious in the room, and the floor was flooded with water. They were saved.—[Springfield Republican.]

Dickens' Earnings.

Sergt. Talfourd estimated that Dickens received $50,000 a year from his works for a period of five years. His total property amounted to nearly half a million. He "made every shilling he possessed" from literature, and was, as all the world knows, a very generous and liberal liver. "He not only lived in a liberal style for thirty years, keeping up a considerable establishment, and often traveling without regard for cost, but he also brought up a large and expensive family."
